BEECHAM'S PILLS

Fatigue is the result of poisons produced by exercise or failure to digest food properly, and eliminate it promptly with the aid of liver and kidneys.

Cheshire.—Miss Marcella Logan died at the Meriden hospital Friday after a few days' illness with pneumonia. Her funeral was held Sunday with burial in St. Bridget's cemetery in Cheshire. This is another instance where a faithful nurse contracted a fatal disease.

What causes Indigestion

An excess of acid in the stomach sours the food and starts fermentation. Distressing gases form. Your meals don't digest but lay like lumps of lead. Then you have heartburn, flatulence, fullness, belching, headache, and real misery in the stomach and intestines. A few tablets of "Pape's Diapensin" bring relief almost as soon as they reach the stomach. "Pape's Diapensin" costs little at drug stores.

WESTERLY

Representative Samuel H. Davis, of Westerly, gave the first address in a series to be given under the auspices of the League of Women Voters, in the Central Congregational church, Monday afternoon. He was presented by Rev. Arthur H. Bradford, Mrs. Edward H. Whitney, president of the Rhode Island Federation of Church societies, and Mr. Davis' subject was Women's Contribution to the Body Politic.

Mr. Davis outlined the duties of women in the nation, in the year to come, of their obligations and privileges in the election of a president. He stressed the fact that women must bear the burdens equally with the men, citing the recent decision of the supreme court in regard to poll taxes as a violation of that principle.

The laxity or cultured men in attendance at party primaries and their negligence in voting, the influences of "dirty politics" and "political safety" as a guiding force in legislation was dealt upon.

He paid a tribute to the influence of women, and congratulated them upon having a non-partisan league, which, he said, insures to them the balance of power in favor of good legislation.

In concluding, he spoke of the duty of women as office holders, the Mothers' Pension bill, which Mr. Davis introduced last year in the Rhode Island legislature, and his plan of having state highways as a fitting memorial to the soldiers who had given their lives to the country.

His talk was enthusiastically received and was followed by questions, which Mr. Davis answered, giving information on current political practices, machinery and methods of election.

James Mollinson, formerly in the employ of the George C. Moore company and at present a tenant in one of the company houses, is under arrest charged with larceny. Mollinson was in the employ of the company last December when a tackle block and falls, and a hoisting jack were stolen. Representatives of the company, aided by Mollinson, made diligent search for the stolen articles but without avail. Subsequently the hoisting jack was found on the premises, evidently having been returned by the purloiner.

Mollinson recently sold his power boat, and with it went a block and tackle, that has been identified as the same that was stolen from the George C. Moore company. The power boat, with the stolen block and falls aboard, was found moored on the Connecticut side of the Pawcatuck river, and the man who purchased in good faith, as a part of the power boat transaction, relinquished his claim to the alleged stolen articles, and they were surrendered to the Westerly police.

Mollinson will be given a hearing in the third district court charged with the theft of tackle block and falls valued at $30 and hoisting jack valued at $15.

Westerly pharmacists are interested in the conference held by Addison E. Monroe, federal fair price commissioner, in Providence, Monday, as a result of complaints accusing certain drug stores of charging exorbitant prices for liquors prescribed by physicians. One complaint received stated that a certain druggist charged $2.25 for a four-ounce vial of ordinary brandy. Other complaints of charges as high as $5, $6 and $7 for a pint of liquor also have been lodged with the commissioner. All druggists in the state are invited to a meeting to be held at the commissioner's office on next Monday morning.

John Sullivan, a deputy of internal revenue, who has been in charge of the spirits division of the office, stated that druggists in the state can obtain from distillers in Kentucky all the liquor they need for medicinal purposes at $5 a gallon, delivered, and that brandy can be obtained by them for about $6 a gallon. Druggists at the convention concluded that they were paying about $7 a gallon for liquor and were not obtaining it for $5, and that it was difficult to obtain a supply.

Dr. Byron U. Richards, secretary of the Rhode Island State Board of Health, was elected first vice president of the Federation of State Medical Boards of the United States, at the convention held last week in Chicago. He also attended the annual convention in that city on public health and legislation of the American Medical Association.

Before Judge Sumner, in Providence on Tuesday, there was a hearing by the court, without jury, the probate appeal of Felice Quaratiello, et al., against Vincenzo Di Biasi. Decision reserved. Attorneys Harry R. Agard and John J. Dunn, of Westerly, appeared for the appellants.

C. Clifford Bradford, a former organist of Christ church, Westerly, who has relatives here, died Tuesday morning in Attleboro, Mass., where he has resided several years. He was engaged in Y. M. C. A. work. It was his custom to visit Westerly at least once a year at Christmas time. He is survived by a brother, William A., of Quincy, Mass.

GALES FERRY

The blizzard of Saturday added more snow to the snow and ice which has covered the ground here for weeks. The river which was nearly clear of ice for the second time during the winter, was frozen over again Saturday night and was white and glistening all day Sunday and continues so. The broken shore ice has piled up in the bays and bends of the river and is from two to three feet thick.

Mrs. Harmon L. Perkins observed her birthday Saturday at her home in the village with her husband. She received pleasing gifts from friends and members of her family, with a shower of post cards and best wishes of a host of friends.

At the special town meeting, a tax rate of eighteen mills, or two mills lower than a year ago, was voted. The reassessment gave an increase of $600,000 to the grand list which will amount to $122,300. To this is added $2700 from personal taxes and $5,400 from the state for schools. It is believed that eighteen mills will be sufficient to meet all demands.

An exemption of ten mills was granted the Lorraine Manufacturing ty at the United Congregational church, Norwich, Friday.

J. O. Winchester of Norwich was a recent visitor at his summer home in the village.

O. H. McFarland, who spent the week end with his family here, returned to the Charlestown Navy Yard Monday morning.

He was accompanied by Mrs. McFarland, who will spend a week with her mother, Mrs. Steele, in Boston.

Monday afternoon the pupils of the village school, Miss Grace A. Chapman, teacher, spoke for the prize contest to be held at Lybrand Center at some future date, when one pupil from every school in the town will enter a prize speaker contest. The judges, Mrs. R. Irving Hutchins and Miss Alice Satterlee, decided in favor of Miss Mildred Keane, whose subject was The Independence Bell, and she will speak for the Gales Ferry school in the contest. Honorable mention was made of David Carter.

Dudley C. Perkins of the village, was the guest Monday evening of Cornner Franklin H. Brown, in Norwich, and attended the lecture by President W. H. Faunce of Brown University at the Community House, on the topic, What is America?

WOODSTOCK

The Woodstock mail driver was unable to make his usual trip Saturday, Sunday the roads were shoveled out so that the regular trip was made Monday.

No services were held at the Congregational church last Sunday, making four Sundays on which the service was omitted on account of the snow and storm.

The adjourned town meeting was held at North Woodstock last Monday afternoon. An 18 1-2 mill tax on a grand list of $126,000 was voted.

Thomas McGovern and family have closed their home here for a few months. Mrs. McGovern and children will board in Concord, N. H.

The shovel brigade is still at work on the snow-blocked roads in town.

In order to depict the best in Finnish literature a new moving picture film company has been formed at Helsingfors.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

TAKE A GLASS OF SALTS IF YOUR BACK HURTS OR BLADDER TROUBLES YOU

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidney or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.
